To combat the high cost of living, the above menu for the Christmas dinner has been prepared by Miss Louis Stanley, chairman of the department of home economics. Six people may be fed amply, with little work on the part of the housewife for the small sum of $3.50.

"The heavily laden Christmas dinner table is a thing of the past," Miss Stanley says. "The high cost of foods is playing a part in its disappearance. Many, however, choose the more simple meal because, if well planned, it affords more real pleasure and the after effects are less disastrous."
